Dear OM:

FCC regulations specifically prohibit simultaneous re-transmission by automatic means of programs or signals emanating from any class of station other than amateur. However, such simultaneous re-transmission of signals emanating from an amateur station is quite permissible, provided of course that pertinent FCC regulations are observed. See particularly Sections 12.82 (transmissions of call signals), 12.101 (points of communications), 12.103 (broadcasting prohibited), 12.116 (Class A 'phone bands), and 12.136 (log entry). Please note that Section 12.136 (b) requiring that the signature of any person, not an amateur, who transmits by voice over a radiotelephone transmitter must be entered in the log.

73.

Sincerely yours,

LeRoy T. Waggoner
